JOHN HOLBROOK, U of Guelph

Triply generated matrix algebras

An old result, often called Gerstenhaber’s Theorem, states that the algebra of polynomials in two commuting nxn matrices has dimension at most n. Here we discuss the possibility of extending this result to algebras generated by THREE commuting matrices.